

Save Two Trapped On Ridge

A new B.B. gun, adventurous spirit and the urge to hunt the wild hills proved too much for two 12-year-old boys, Billy Hutchins of Sierra Madre and Bob Simmons of Baldwin Park, when they became stranded on a narrow ridge high above the Little Santa Anita Canyon Sunday afternoon.

With the approach of darkness, the boys built a small but carefully controlled fire, which successfully attracted attention to their plight.

The Sierra Madre Police were called and in turn alerted the local Fire Department, Forest Service and the Search and Rescue Team. When the missing persons report came in, the Rescue Team was called to action. They were driven to the top of the Santa Anita Ridge in two Forest Service trucks and started down, looking for the boys.

The search was hampered by low clouds and poor visibility—the small glow could no longer be seen. One Forest Service truck parked up the Mt. Wilson road attempting to guide the team to the boy's location by flashing a spotlight.

A little after 3 a.m. voice contact was made with the boys and they were found hungry and cold but otherwise unharmed. The boys were led safely from the hills to their waiting parents at Chantry Flats.

Mrs. Carter to Head Historical Society

Mrs. Gladys Carter has been elected president of the Sierra Madre Historical Society to succeed Mrs. H. Randolph Wood. Elections were held May 23 at the group's spring convocation in the Library Community Room.

Also elected are Mrs. Wood, vice president; Mrs. Helen Sandage, secretary-treasurer; Miss Lulu Moore, curator, and Mrs. Maybelle Caley Barker, historian.

A WARM tribute to Mrs. Wood for her three years' service as president was presented from the floor by Edward L. Voorhees for the nominating committee, and enthusiastically seconded by a rising vote of the audience.

It was reported that the gathering of biographical data from both members and non-members is continuing, under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Suman.

A copy of the inscription on the bronze Mr. Wilson Trail plaque was given its first public reading, at the request of Mrs. Wood. Mr. Voorhees composed the message on the plaque. The Kiwanis, Lions and Civic Service Group (originated by Col. Walter D. Thurber) were commended by Mrs. Wood for their contributions to the fund for the Mr. Wilson Trail monument.

RICHARD LEES, retiring vice president, also was commended for his efficient supervision of all the details of procuring the plaque and erecting the marker, as were the City Council and City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington.

David Wood Is Candidate for Water Board

Voters will decide July 21 whether to approve the four-city water district and will also vote on members to the board. Mr. Wood is the only candidate from Sierra Madre.

Ranger Tice Honored for Fire Rescue

Heroic action by Jack A. Tice, 29, U.S. Forest Service Ranger from the Sierra Madre Ranger station, on the "gun" fire north of Durate, Sept. 1, 1958, resulted in his being awarded the U.S. Department of Agriculture superior service award in Washington, D.C., last Tuesday.

Angeles Forest Supervisor Richard R. Droegge said the fire, believed to have started from a tracer bullet, occurred at the mouth of Fish Canyon on Sept. 1.

During the fire, Tice, Rangers David Westfall and Norman White, were attempting to lay hose across a steep ridge when the fire suddenly started up in another area below them. Westfall and White were caught in the onrush of flames.

Westfall fell over a rocky slope suffering a compound fracture of his ankle, as well as severe burns. White was severely burned.

Ranger Tice, recognizing the additional danger to the two men from another flare-up, and at great risk to his own life, went back into the area and pulled and carried Westfall to safety, then rescued White.

Chief McMillan To Discuss Family Service

Family Service, what it is and how Sierra Madre residents use its facilities will be discussed by Chief of Police Gordon McMillan at the June 3 meeting of the Coordinating Council in the School District offices at 8 p.m.

Chief McMillan is a member of the Sierra Madre Family Service Board.

Lucky Thirteen

Powder Puff Win Goal of Housewife

By Tommy Ann Miller

A petite Sierra Madre mother, Mrs. Virginia Graham, will pilot the 13th plane to take off in the 13th Annual Powder Puff Derby, July 4.

She'll be flying a twin-engine Piper Apache in the 2,470-mile race from Lawrence Field, Mass., to Felet Field, Spokane, Wash. Quite a challenge for the trim, attractive brunette—who got her pilot's license only two years ago.

"Being the 13th plane in the 13th annual race should be lucky," said Virginia Graham, "especially since my co-pilot's name is also Virginia—and it's the first Derby for either of us!"

The Co-pilot is Mrs. Virginia Hall of La Canada, a licensed pilot with three years experience.

ABOUT 60 planes are entered in the all-woman competition for $3,000 in cash and trophies. During the four-day handicap, pilots must clock in at designated airports for fuel, rest or because of rough weather.

"We have to land by sundown each day—there is no night or instrument flying," said Mrs. Graham, who seems as though she'd be capable of either.

How does pilot Graham's husband, Russell (president of Graham Brothers Inc.), feel about the coast-to-coast race?

"Naturally, he's pretty excited—but he also has complete confidence in me," said venture.

Mrs. Graham, who often acts as co-pilot for her husband, also a licensed pilot. The couple frequently fly their plane to various spots in Mexico and the Southwest—usually accompanied by their three children: Cameron, 16; Frank, 13, and Julie, 7.

BETWEEN FLIGHTS the Grahams live in a rambling pink brick ranch house which they built 13 years ago at 250 Monte Vista Lane. Mrs. Graham's other activities include the Arcadia Assistance League, golf and swimming—(they're in the process of building a pool in the backyard).

Since the flying Virginias must be in Massachusetts by July 1, they'll leave El Monte Airport June 23, and head up in Washington in order to fly the race route back. Until then, Mrs. Graham (who has never been east—much less flown over the territory) will be pouring over a pile of aeronautical maps, figuring mileage, weather, etc.

Whatever the outcome, the Graham family will be cheering at the Seattle finish line when their powder puff wings in from her airy adventure.

A concession stand has been added to the pool for the convenience of the customers.

Customers this year will be permitted to leave pool area to smoke and to buy refreshments. Eating, drinking and smoking, however, will not be permitted within the pool area.

The department also announced that new diving standards and boards have been purchased but it is doubtful whether installation will be completed by Saturday.

Nursery School Family Picnic Planned June 3

The Sierra Madre Community Nursery School Association will hold its 12th annual family picnic at 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 3 at Monrovia Recreation Park.

Hiestand Probes 21st. District Union Conditions

Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand, 21st District Republican, is at home this week as a member of a three-man special subcommittee investigating labor-management conditions in the Los Angeles area. The purpose of the investigations is to gather evidence relating to pending labor legislation.

Mr. Hiestand said the most pressing need is for new labor-management legislation that gives more consideration to rank and file union members.

VFW, PTA Plan Memorial Day Rites

Memorial Day services honoring those who died in past wars will be conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars this Saturday in the Sierra Madre Cemetery.

The holiday also will be observed at Sierra Mesa School, 160 N. Canon, with the planting of an Evergreen Ash in the new kindergarten play yard, Friday, at 9:30 a.m.

TRADITIONAL services will be held in the cemetery by members of VFW Post 3208 in honor of 42 veterans there. Rev. George Lindsay of the Congregational Church will officiate.

Members of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary will decorate veterans' graves starting at 4 p.m. Friday. Many flowers have been donated by the Wistaria Flower Shop.

AT SIERRA MESA School a tree and memorial plaque will be presented to the

Rejects Dogs, Night Games, Swimming

A crowd which over-flowed into the hallway heard the City Council Tuesday night approve plans for the construction of a Catholic high school for girls in Sierra Madre.

The school will be built on the 13-acre estate of the Sisters of St. Francis, 675 W. Highland, and eventually will accommodate 500 girls.

The conditional use permit approved by the Council contains, however, three unusual stipulations. Made by Councilman Webster Vanier, they are:

1. No swimming will be permitted at night. (There is no pool on the grounds at present).

2. No competitive games will be allowed at night.

3. No dogs will be permitted on the grounds.

The intent of these conditions apparently is to guard against the possibility of undue noise in the evening. They were approved unanimously by the Council and nobody in the audience objected.

THOMAS R. SUTTNER, an attorney who lives in Sierra Madre, represented the Sisters of St. Francis at the public hearing.

He argued that the school would be an asset in the community, would enhance property values and would not result in a tax loss, since all parochial schools are tax exempt in the first place. He also said that he could not force the creation of any traffic hazard.

Among those who spoke in opposition were Mrs. John Buchan, 677 W. Montecito; Mrs. Ed. R. Hubler, 115 Mich. Illinda, Pasadena; and Orland W. Wilcox, 611 W. Grand View.

They argued, in general, that a majority of the surrounding property owners are opposed to the school, it is not needed here, would be noisy and create a traffic problem.

The school is expected to open in September, 1960, with the ninth grade. One grade will be added each year until all four high school grades are established.

THE COUNCIL also approved a new plan for the construction of a street between Sierra Madre Blvd. and Esperanza, from Baldwin to Hermosa.

The street, if plans are finally fulfilled, would go straight through from Baldwin to Hermosa, rather than turning south at Hansen's Ford Agency and exiting on Esperanza.

A petition to modify the plan was submitted by persons who own or whose firms own more than 60 per cent of all the property involved. They are Sam Perloff, E. R. Mitchell, Charles A. Ower, Mrs. Nathan Jacobs and John Rasmussen.

If the street is put through the land owned by Mr. Rasmussen behind his business will be rezoned from commercial to R-3. This will permit him to develop the property.

IN OTHER business, City Attorney Charles R. Martin presented a report regarding the letter from Mrs. Estelle Drobeck which was read at the Council meeting May 12.

The letter was directed at Mayor Charles H. James and accused him in general terms of misconduct in office.

Mr. Martin's report said, in part:

"The letter is stated in such general terms as to make it impossible to analyze insofar as specific charges are concerned . . . It appears to

Red Cross Urges Donor Appointment

Donor appointments are now being taken for the June 8th visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Sierra Madre.

All prospective donors are urged to make a firm appointment for this visit of the Bloodmobile in order to avoid any delay. "Drop-in" donors will be accepted, but may have to wait, since appointments will be honored first.

It is expected that the Bloodmobile schedule will be more fully filled for this visit. Under new Red Cross policy it is possible for those who have used commercial blood at a hospital to have relatives and friends replace used blood through the Red Cross and so have refunded to them the cost of the commercial blood.

THE RED CROSS will offer this program as a regular service to the community.

In addition, members of local Red Cross Blood Insurance Groups as well as individual donors will wish to contribute to their own "blood bank accounts" in order to have a blood credit available for their own use in case of need.

BABY SITTING service will be provided at the Woman's Club, and transportation will be available for those needing it.

Appointments for the Bloodmobile may be made by calling Mrs. Adelaide Miller at local Red Cross headquarters, ELgin 5-0745.

Schools and Taxes

Sierra Madrenes bucked the trend last week, if only by the slenderest margin, and approved a new school tax limit 50 cents higher than the present one.

Much credit for the victory must go to the YES Committee which labored long and hard, particularly during the final hours, in getting out the vote and in persuading a reluctant public to cast ballots in favor of the tax measure.

The victory, if it can be called that, illustrates several points.

IT SHOWS, for example, that a dedicated group can accomplish a near miracle despite a trend to the contrary and in the face of determined opposition.

It illustrates also that the public is growing increasingly weary of paying more and more taxes and tends to lump them all in one big basket labeled "The Tax Rate." The merits of a particular request for more money seems to make little difference. If it costs more a great percentage of the public is "agin" it.

The fate of our public schools, therefore, appears to hang on the slimmest of threads—the whim of the public. Indeed, it seems that every time our school officials wish to improve the system, even if only new textbooks are required, they must go to the public and beg for funds.

If the public turns them down, which is frequently the case, the educational system begins to deteriorate, classrooms become overcrowded, outdated teaching materials are used, the roof leaks, the school bus falls apart and the cafeteria is obliged either to close its doors or serve pigs feet and tripe for lunch.

THE SCHOOLS are one of very few institutions in our society which are directly controlled by the public. If the city needs more money—a higher tax rate—the public has no chance to approve or reject. Our congressman and senators certainly don't ask us to vote in favor of higher income taxes. They simply raise them.

We take our automobiles to professional mechanics to be repaired, our teeth are drilled and filled by expert technicians, our bodies are overhauled by doctors of medicine and few of us would dream of defending ourselves in court without the aid of a lawyer.

Yet in the arena of public education we are all experts, and are quite willing to join battle against the educators, the professionals in the field whom we apparently neither trust nor respect.

It is argued that too many of our public school teachers are second-rate. They spend too much time learning how to teach and too little in the pursuit of basic subject matter.

OUR PUBLIC schools, it's said, are surfeited with frills, with classes in square dancing, cooking, with hikes in the forest. We don't teach students how to think or, indeed, even why they should occasionally use their heads for a purpose other than as a peg for their hats.

If these charges are even partially correct, we, members of the public, must accept the responsibility. We must realize that by our stinginess, our seeming deep distrust of intellectualism, we have made them so.

And this, I believe, is the primary lesson of the school tax election, not only here, where the tax increase squeaked through, but in many other communities where the public turned the professionals down.—H.W.E.

Dump Yankees

If there was gloom in Mudville when the mighty Casey struck out, there was absolute incredulity throughout the baseball world this week when another Casey and his boys struck bottom.

The unbelievable happened May 20 when Casey Stengel's New York Yankees dropped to last place in the American League for the first time in 19 years. We suspect that even confirmed Yankee-phobes, who would cheer any underdog to beat the annoyingly perennial champs, were more dazed than enthused as the mighty fell.

IT WAS easy to boo the Yankees for winning year after year with such machine-like precision and hauteur. But even the boos aren't likely to be fully at ease in a world where Baltimore, Kansas City, and Washington tower over the prostate Yankees.

For New Yorkers this cave-in of the erstwhile champions may look like the last straw. Already deserted by two of their three major league teams, they now appear destined to be deprived not only of their occasional "subway series" but of any World Series at all. Pessimists fear October may find Yankee Stadium rented out for chrysanthemum shows.

BUT WAIT a minute. That mention of October strikes a familiar note. Wasn't it last October fifth when everyone said the Yankees' reign was at an end?—and then they won three straight games, and the World Series, from Milwaukee.

Thanks to Dr. Toynbee, we're prepared for the decline of even the most invincible-looking organizations. But somehow we feel it would be a good idea for all those Yankee-phobes to keep up with their booing lessons. Just in case. (Reprinted from The Christian Science Monitor.)

Letters to the Editor

YAS, YAS
Carefree Trailer Park,
Rt. 5,
Escondido, Calif.
May 17, 1959.

Howdy,
Jest tho't I'd drop ye a line and tell ye how we miss that ole Sierra Madre water. I swan that jest ain't none nowhere else like it. We jest sor o' tuck it fer granted till we landed in Venturie where the water be so hard ye can nie onto set on it.

I broke out in blisters an' pon my word Ray got the itchy mizry, so we hunted up a The Man and he hooked up "Hustle Hut," that's the name of our trailer with softy water. But I do declare he didn't right much trust us—deposit and such like. It only lasted for about 10 days and then the water got all sticky up and hard again so's we had to pay more and git another shot of it.

Next we went to Cagucio and it war about as bad an' we had to find another soft water guy.

THEN we came on down to Garden Grove fer a spell and I swan if that water wasn't kind o' hard too — had to spend so much to git all this here water doctored up we begin to wonder if we'd be able to pay the taxes and buy a few vittles.

When we got home Ray vowed he want gonna go thro that shenanigans agin so he split the water line goin' into Hustle Hut and bot a softie tank.

When we got down here an' Ray war a settin up Blue Springs—that's the softie water tank—yeah, the water's sort o' hard here, too, the trailer park nabors jest stood around gappin and a wonderin'. This here water is clear an' sparkling and it's jest mity nice water—but the honry truth is it's purty har'.

But I swan it's jest a shore fact when we tried the test, it shore was as hard as ever — I sez "Ray, you shore the valve's turned rite?" It war. No good.

AFTER A spell o' rummua-tin, I sez, "Ray, could the only surviving descendant of yore ancestors have hooked that little Blue Springs up to the toilet water?" Shore nuf that's what he went an' done. Quickern a wink, it war fixed and it be a workin lak mags.

With store bot water to drink, I reckon we gonna be all set for a spell.

Ray always totes along Sierra Madre water fer the radiator—he sez all softie water ain't good fer raddiators. Sez he, that thar Sierra Madre water be jest rite for sech things as raddiators and people's innards.

BUT THIS here air out here in the country east of Escondido be mity fine an easy on the nose and eyes. I'd jest be right much proud if the Brite Boys' ud brings us nice clean air to match our water.

We can bottle water and take it with us, but we can't bottle this good air and take it home with us. No shree, air is where you find it, and ye can't take it with ye. Except that sarter kind o' hot air which thar ain't no good Sierra Madren gonna cotton to no-how.

Yours truly,

SADDER BUT WISER

Dear Sir:

On the southeast corner of the Boulevard and Sierra Place stands a monument to the inviolability of Sir Isaac Newton's laws of gravitation. It was erected by Southern California Edison Co. The new 14-inch diameter pole carries a multitude of power lines, transformers, and telephone wires.

Its late predecessor was subjected to the test of the not quite immovable body by the somewhat less than irresistible force of a stray Cadillac. For about 10 days it hung temporarily spliced in the shape of a question mark from the wires it was intended to support.

Said Cadillac also acquired some non-streamlined con cavities in its attempt to wrap around the displaced pole. The driver became a guest of our hospital.

The law violated states that two bodies cannot occupy the same space at the same time. This law and others about motion, momentum, and centrifugal force are explained in every physics textbook. They form the basis of our traffic code which is designed to provide a liberal safety factor against blundering into violations of the gravitation code.

If we go beyond this safety factor, "we have had it." Age, sex, influence, or affluence cannot "fix" a ticket for violating this code. There is no special consideration for first offenders.

Knowledge of the fundamental laws of physics helps towards a better understanding of and respect for our traffic code. Sir Isaac says that it is not unnecessarily restrictive. Those who challenge him, and live, become sadder but wiser persons.

Very respectfully,
K. Fritz Schumacher

THANKS VOTERS

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the YES Committee, we would like publicity to thank and to express our deep appreciation to all the people who gave so generously of their time and effort to secure passage of the new school tax limit at last week's election.

We would also like to extend the Committee's gratitude to the many voters who supported the school tax limit and assured its approval by their YES vote.

John A. Dewar,
Chairman, YES Committee
Elena C. Brown,
Co-Chairman.

BROTHERHOOD

Dear Sir:

Parents attending the last PTA meeting had an opportunity to see another side of a familiar personalities in viewing the hobbies and handicrafts which were on display.

Especially interesting to me was the little talk given by Margaret Anthony, in connection with the hobby she shares with her family: collecting desert reptiles and lizards. She asked mothers, particularly, not to be squeamish when their youngsters brought some creepy, crawly critter for admiration and inspection. "You have to get very close to them to see their beauty—And they are beautiful," she told her audience.

Because my thoughts tend to shift from the particular to the universal, I was reminded of a little parable I read once, which dramatizes the reason for our fears and suspicions in human relations is that we need to get closer to one another.

"I saw a figure," says the parable, "away off on the horizon. I thought it was a beast, and I was very much afraid, and readied my weapon. As we came closer together, I was surprised to see that it was a man like myself. When we came closer together still, and stood face to face, I saw that it was my brother."

Sincerely,
Terry Mackenzie

"Always thought they took up the sidewalks every night—now I'm sure of it," muttered one male spectator as the cement cutter minced up Kersting Court walk. "Probably rolling 'em so they won't wear out."

Replacing the creaky walks will take several weeks, according to Fred Richter, Street Department foreman.

And while they're casting the cement—in sectional gulps to facilitate foot traffic and keep merchants merry)—why don't they cast about for some beautiful tiles to imbed in the cement?

LITTLE WITT. A small bundle (seven pounds, six ounces) of future harpichord player, Carl Thomas Witt, was born May 18 to Bud and Marium Witt, 187 N. Mountain Trail. Bud, an engineer, is highly skilled in the rare art of making harpichords—plays them very well, too. He recently hand carved his Maid Marium an exquisite Viola de Gamba.

INCIDENTALLY. Bud and librarian, Daisy Hinshaw, are getting together for some chamber music (following the mention that Daisy was looking for Recorder players)—Daisy plays a C Major Recorder and Bud is a Tenor tooter.

QUITE A SCHOLASTIC feather for two of the four Pasadena High School Rotary and Kiwanis award winners to be Sierra Madre students! Both winners, Toddy Draeger and Anthony (Nino) Leonardi, have been locally schooled since kindergarten—which prompted one mother to say, "I'm tired of people constantly criticizing our school system—I'm proud of our schools and I think our youngsters reflect their training here!"

Toddy, daughter of the Arthur Draegers of Esperanza, won the Rotary Club Award for Scholarship and Service. She has been accepted at Stanford and will major in secondary education.

Nino, son of the A. M. Leonardis, 451 W. Grandview, was given the Kiwanis Scholarship-Athletic award. Come 1972, the Senate enacted similar bills in 1884, 1886, 1888, 1948 and 1949. None of these measures were acted upon by the other House and therefore none became law.

After 1949 attention shifted to Federal aid for school construction. A round-robin of proposals began, from the White House to the Senate to the House of Representatives and back and forth again. There were many proposals and many compromises but no final agreement to aid school construction.

In 1958 attention shifted

WHO HASN'T given a spare worry over something dining out and finding no diners in your pocket? This happened to a local family after dinner at an out of town restaurant. Both "spice" had forgotten to bring money (Why didn't you?"—"I thought you did!") Outcome? Mother and the two children drove home for beefsteak ball, leaving Daddy in hock.

MORE STUDENT awards (the town's bursting with brains!) this week: From the San Gabriel Valley Women's Press Club to Louise Lauder, daughter of the James Lauders, for outstanding journalism. Charlotte Fedde, daughter of the Arnold Feddes, 51 Rancho Rd., and Toddy Draeger tied for third place for the Pasadena Elks Award—each girl was given fifty dollars.

FOR PROOF (furnished by Dotty Underwood) that prices don't always soar, check this week's ads. The same brand of tires at Fox-ton's are selling for two dollars less than they did three years ago: $17.45 in 1956—$15.45 today. Up the road you can buy Roess' chicken

'Johnson Congress' Cautious, Unexciting

By Robert G. Spivack

HOW TO LOSE AN ELECTION—Lyndon Johnson of Texas may think he's the life of the party, but there are many thoughtful Democrats who think he may be the death of it.

It is now five months since the supposedly "ultra-liberal" 86th Congress has been in session. Last November the Democrats swept the country and even the most optimistic Republicans could see nothing to cheer about except for Nelson Rockefeller's victory in New York. And Rockefeller was too independent to make rock-ribbed Republicans feel he was one of them.

But what the Republicans could not do for themselves, Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn have done for them. There is more hope in Republican ranks right now, less than a year after their worst defeat since the 30s, than there has been since Gen. Eisenhower agreed to become a candidate in 1952.

WHAT HAPPENED to the Democratic leadership that has caused the present Congress to turn out far different from original expectations? Well, you pays your money and you takes your choice.

The Wall St. Journal, expressing no regrets, says that this Congress is "cautious, compromising and unexciting." Big businessmen, it says in effect, have nothing to worry about. While it offers no simple explanation of the reasons for the Democratic slow-down it suggests that business is once again so good all the pressure from the "liberal-left" has lost its steam.

This explanation is not without its merits. But I think the problem goes deeper than that; it goes to the personality and private interests of the men who are running the show. At the beginning of the year Johnson made a number of high-sounding speeches dealing with world affairs and outer space. No one took him seriously because everyone knew Lyndon's heart belongs deep in the heart of Texas oil.

THE RETURN FROM OUTER SPACE—Johnson managed to get some good publicity out of these "statesmanlike" pronouncements and that was about all he wanted. When there was no mileage to be gotten he returned to his ordinary pursuits as champion of special interests, even agreed that there must be no reckless federal "spending," and let Sen. Harry F. Byrd scuttle a senate-approved workmen's compensation measure by yielding in a House-Senate conference committee.

In many ways Johnson reminds me of a man named H. Sanders Anglea, who is currently running for vice mayor of Nashville, Tenn. In announcing his decision to run, Anglea said:

"My many friends have not prevailed upon me to become a candidate for reelection, and I have not been told that the city needs my services; the truth of the matter is, I want the job again."

Nobody has asked Johnson to be the Democratic "leader." He stepped in when a vacuum existed. None of the Democrats from those populous states, whose support is needed for the party to win in 1960, wants Johnson to continue as party boss. But he likes the job and he is staying.

ALL THIS, of course, is made to order for Vice President Nixon. If there are no "big issues" developed by the opposition party—or if its congressional "leaders" believe none exists—then what reason is there for choosing a Democrat for President next year? Nixon will claim that he knows more about the inner workings of the federal government than anyone now being considered by the Democrats.

There will be a lot of people who will believe him and a lot of others who will take a "what the hell" attitude and simply stay away from the polls.

Bureaucracy Seen in School Aid Bill

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Rep., 21st Dist., Calif.

Having been associated with the field of education all my life as a school board member, school board president, as a member of a college council, and now as a member of the House Education Committee, legislation that would affect education is of particular interest to me.

In my judgment, the future of our nation rests squarely on our educational systems. We must keep them strong and make them better. We must not let them become a political football.

Proposals for Federal aid to education are not new. Several hundred bills to authorize Federal financial assistance for the general support of elementary and secondary schools were before Congress over the period between 1871 and 1949.

THE HOUSE of Representatives passed a bill providing Federal aid to schools in 1872. The Senate enacted similar bills in 1884, 1886, 1888, 1948 and 1949. None of these measures were acted upon by the other House and therefore none became law.

After 1949 attention shifted to Federal aid for school construction. A round-robin of proposals began, from the White House to the Senate to the House of Representatives and back and forth again. There were many proposals and many compromises but no final agreement to aid school construction.

In 1958 attention shifted once more, this time to Federal student aid. Proposals were submitted for Federal aid for scholarships, fellowships, student loan programs, aid to science and mathematics teaching, and guidance and counseling. A bill authorizing about $900 million over a four-year period was enacted, as the National Defense Education Act of 1958. This passed on the last day of the 85th Congress. Obviously it would not have passed except for the "Sputnik" scare.

DURING THESE years several measures were adopted which aided specific areas of education, but not education generally. These were Federal aid for land grant colleges, assistance for vocational training, aid for areas affected by Federal activities and other programs providing educational activities believed to be essential to national defense and the welfare of our country.

However, the American people have always been leery of Federal aid to education, as indicated by the failure to accept the hundreds of proposals mentioned above which employed the "broadside" approach to the problem. But the education "interventionists" were encouraged by last year's scholarship program, and it gave new momentum to the major aid to education bill of this session, the Murray-Metcalf Bill. This bill, embodies the wildest dreams of its sponsors and their backers. Enactment of the Murray-

OUR FOUNDING fathers, well versed in the lessons of history, were aware that he who controls the education of children controls their minds. They did not want a Federal School Board selecting text books and outlining study courses for their children. They knew such a school board would be at the beck and call of the political party in power. Likewise, we do not want a "New Deal" school board and we do not want an "Old Guard" school board, deciding what our children should study and learn.

Under the Murray-Metcalf Bill major and permanent responsibility for the operation of our public schools would inevitably be transferred to the Federal bureaucracy. The Federal government can not take the responsibility without taking the authority. This is my main objection to the Murray-Metcalf Bill. There are others, but because of space limitations they will be detailed in a future Washington Report.

What Do You Think . . .

National Health Insurance Inevitable

By Lee Shippey

Moscow is boasting that more than 2,000 Russians have volunteered to be shot into outer space in rockets . . . Oh, well, what have they got to lose?

OTHER DAY I was surprised to see that "Cassandra," the British columnist whose column now appears in the Los Angeles Times, spoke out in unreserved praise of the English health-insurance plan, declaring it to have been a great blessing to his country.

I happened to have been in England when it was first put into effect, and though I had no contact with it I heard a lot about it, and all that the AMA says against "socialized medicine" here was being said against it over there—but parts at 1956 prices (new parts—old price).

NEWS OFFICE cronies crooned "Happy Birthday" to ace ad manager, Dotty, while pot-luck partying Fri-or more and all the expenses day night at the Bryce Tyler for junkets and such have gone up correspondingly.

after 11 years it still seems to be going well. Isn't something comparable inevitable in our nation, where few persons past 65 can hold jobs and must stretch their incomes thin the rest of their lives—good, self-respecting citizens who deserve to be treated as such. Our trend is putting too many doctors in the Cadillac class, too many good citizens in the pauper class.

THE OSCAR for the economy suggestion which fell with the dullest and hollowest thud, should go to Mr. Truman, who told Congress that instead of cutting military expenses and foreign aid it would be better to cut its own salaries and privileges. The suggestion resulted in absolute silence but it made a shudder of horror tremble through the breasts of all the professional politicians in America. Look all about you and think how many municipal, county, judicial and federal jobs which used to pay from $5,000 to $10,000 a year now pay from $15,000 to $25,000 a year and all the expenses gone up correspondingly.

The very senators who want all union finances exposed to public view refuse to let the figures on their own payrolls be published, yet everyone knows that many of them have their wives or children on government payrolls at juicy salaries, even though many of them do no actual work. A judge who said our court calendars would be cleaned up if only judges worked longer hours was regarded as a traitor by those who think the only way is to hire more judges and pay them more.

How does that compare with labor goldbricking? I'm a little like the small boy who wanted to be a judge because judges could take a recess any time they wished. Other day my morning newspaper told that all county employees are to get a raise and one executive would be raised to $29,000 a year.

All those things contribute greatly to our taxes. What has become of the old idea that the honor of holding public office should be its major compensation? It still exists in cities with unpaid councilmen and mayors, but where else?

Baha'is Mark 115th Anniversary Of New Age

The 115th anniversary of a new age and a new universal cycle was observed Saturday, May 23, by the Baha'is of Sierra Madre at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Joseph McCormack, 823 Canyon Crest Drive.

"In 1844," Mrs. McCormack explained, "a young man of Shiraz, Iran, known as the Bab, announced his mission of not only ending the Islamic Age and the Adamic Cycle, but heralding the beginning of a new universal cycle and a new age. The Bab declared that the principles and laws of this new age would be revealed by one greater than himself, whom God would manifest shortly.

"Baha'is believe this promised one was Baha'u'llah, the founder of the Baha'i Faith. The principles proclaimed by Baha'u'llah are 12 in number, the most important of which are the oneness of mankind and the fundamental oneness of religion.

"Baha'is are now in the middle of a 10-year global crusade designed to spread the knowledge of these principles and laws. We believe that the implementation of these principles and laws will establish the spiritual foundation for universal peace, the hallmark of the new age."

Plan Missionary Aid Pledge

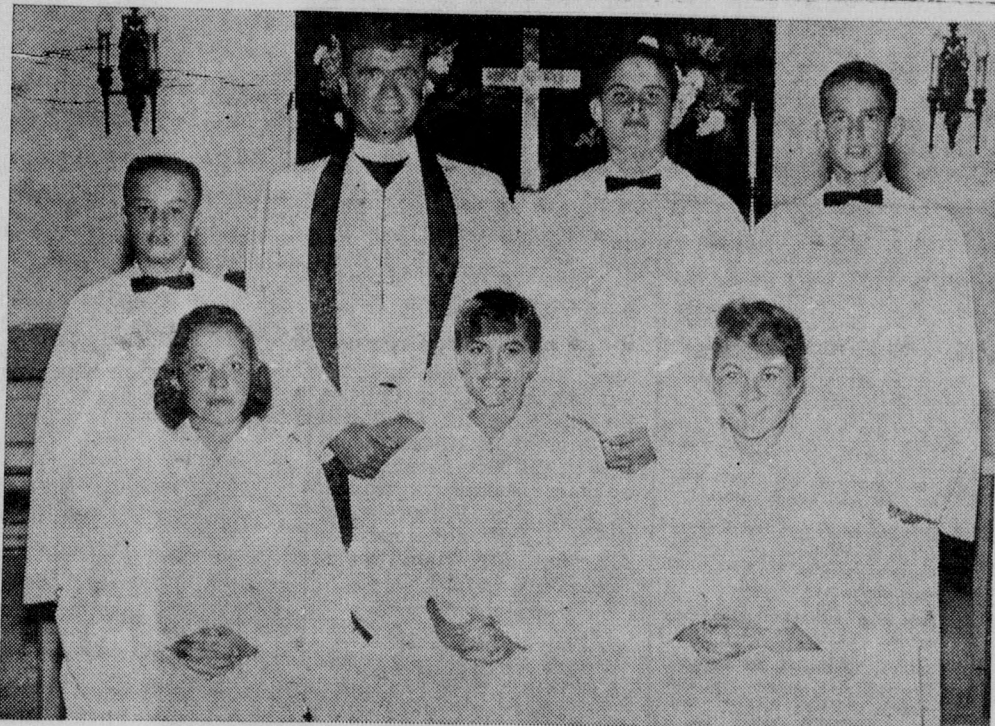

A forward step in missionary outreach will be made at Bethany Church this coming Sunday, according to the pastor, Dr. Robert Schaper.

The church is presently supporting missionary interests by gifts of over $1,100 a month. This Sunday members and friends of the church will pledge to the mission programs through the church by means of "Faith Promises."

Pastor Schaper said these faith promises will represent not only regular giving commitments, but also amounts of money which the people of the church will pray for in order to support the missionary program.

"We expect our missionaries to have faith for their needs, and why should not we have the same kind of faith along with them," Dr. Schaper said.

He pointed out that by the same process in the first six months of 1957 Bethany Church received nearly $50,000 for its building program.

Money when you need it —for any purpose! First Western Bank Ready-Credit

Just write a check—and the loan is yours!

It's amazingly simple:

First Western Bank READY-CREDIT is a revolving loan account specifically designed to give you a pre-arranged "line of credit" at your First Western Bank. The bank sets aside for your use an amount determined by monthly payments best suited to your income. This is known as your "maximum credit." Once established, it may be used for purchases or major bills covering an almost endless variety of categories. It's amazingly simple to use First Western Bank READY-CREDIT.

Here's how it works...

3. When your credit application is approved and your "maximum credit" established, First Western Bank sends you a set of attractive checks—each one personalized with your own name and address printed on it. You will also receive a Register on which to enter all the checks drawn against your READY-CREDIT account. If you are using money to pay a number of bills, it is economical to draw just one check against your "maximum credit" and deposit it in a First Western Bank checking account—and pay your bills with checks drawn against that account.

4. Think of the freedom you'll enjoy with First Western Bank READY-CREDIT! Just write a check—it's that simple!—and you have the money for all sorts of expenses!—that foreign vacation you've always wanted...household costs...school or college tuitions...auto repairs...appliance purchases...taxes and insurance...new clothes. There's no end to the many uses of First Western Bank READY-CREDIT.

5. Another pleasant aspect of READY-CREDIT is that your First Western Bank does most of your bookkeeping for you. Once a month, in advance of your payment date, the bank will mail you a Statement showing the amount of payment due, the amount of remaining credit available—and other charges. These charges include interest at the rate of 1 1/4% on your unpaid balance—plus 25¢ each for READY-CREDIT checks paid by the bank.

6. Additional features of First Western Bank READY-CREDIT include Life Insurance at no additional cost, covering the outstanding amount of credit you have already used but not repaid... You may apply at any time to have your "maximum credit" increased... As long as your monthly payments are made promptly, your READY-CREDIT account will be considered permanent by the bank although you may close it at any time you wish.

7. As stated before, it's amazingly simple! Why don't you apply NOW—while you have this convenient coupon before you? Anyone over the age of 21, with a steady income and good credit background, is eligible. So fill out this coupon now—and join the responsible persons who have that greatest of all prestige builders, a true "line of credit."

"Any cause of action is a matter for the respective public officials to investigate and indulge in as a matter of personal choice."

He added that the City Council is "elected by all the people to serve all the people" and is not obliged to receive personal oral communications nor to read letters.

"Persons who will not maintain order," he said, or who become riotous or who interfere with the normal and orderly processing of municipal affairs may be ejected from a public meeting."

THE COUNCIL abided by Mr. Martin's opinion later in the meeting and did not read a letter submitted by Noren Eaton, local attorney. Mayor Charles H. James pointed out, however, that the letter is on file and may be read by interested citizen.

Mr. Eaton's letter urged the City Council to use sales tax funds for the purpose of lowering the tax rate and not for capital improvements.

Sales tax money has been and is currently being used for capital improvements. These funds, for example, paid for the new swimming pool.

Ower Hurls No-Hitter In Initial Babe Ruth Game

Dennis Ower pitched a no-hitter in the opening Babe Ruth game as the Cardinals trounced the Senators 10 to 1. Ower struck out 12 Senators. Their only run was scored as a result of a walk and an error by Burke of the Cardinals. Outstanding players for the Cardinals were Yarnell, Johnson, and Bean.

The game was called at the end of five innings because of darkness.

As we draw close to another Memorial Day and farther away from the memories it brings to so many, it gives us cause to hope that the generation of today will eventually have occasion to remember it with a moment of thought as something their forefathers celebrated, but is no longer necessary.

The President asked that the day be dedicated to prayer. Prayer for those who have fought and fallen and for those who were left with an aching void that only time can heal but never erase. Pray every day that our men will stay home to tend their fires and raise their families without raising arms against their brothers, whenever they might be. Pray that we may one day shake hands with all people of the world without going behind iron curtains and doors that lock the hearts of those who can no longer pray without fear of reprisal. For this, we are asked to take the time.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph Barnard are busily settling and landscaping their new home at 3251 Mesa Loa Lane. They no sooner moved in when they had a sort of open house for Mr. Barnard's associates from the Pasadena Corp., stock and bond company. The party also served as a farewell to the J. C. Wilfongs who were departing for Hawaii.

YOU WILL understand how difficult it was to reach them when I tell you that the J. C. Wilfongs, also of Mesa Loa Lane, returned from their trip last week after three wonderful weeks in the Islands. They flew both ways so were able to take full advantage of the time allotted to this particular trip in the Islands. Mr. Wilfong did some deep sea fishing with not too much outstanding reward, but deemed that it was fun anyway.

All in all, their trip was marvelous and they both have a list of things they want to do and see next trip. This time they did all the normal tourist things such as island hopping, sight seeing, sunning and, of course, shopping.

MISSSES ESTHER O. Clark and Marlan Smales of Sierra Madre Villa were hostesses last Thursday evening to Guild "A" of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church. A lively discussion was held by the 27 guests on portions of the Bible. Refreshments were served.

MRS. WILLIAM Baugh of Edge Cliff Lane was hostess last Friday afternoon at a bridge luncheon. Her guests were Mesdames Paul Siechert, Richard Fox, Harold Zook, John Griffith, Robert Baugh, John Cahoon, Earl Welch, Ken Christiansen, George Otte and her sister, Mrs. Bruce Crandall, who is visiting here from Salem.

I WAS HAPPY to learn that Mr. L. G. Farmer of Wynn Road is home again from the hospital after surgery. He is doing well and expects to be back in his work some time next week.

MR. CARL MOUNTEER of Sierra Madre Villa returned home again last week after an extended business and pleasure trip in the East. He went back on a consultant basis for the G. M. Giannini Co. and covered different companies in Ohio, New Jersey, Georgia and New York. While in New York he was able to spend a little time with his mother and father as well as his brothers and sisters. Mr. Mounteer has written two technical papers on basic instrumentation which had been submitted all over the United States to engineering companies. He was gratified on this trip, which was more or less a follow-up, to find how well they had been received.

MR. AND MRS. John Hoffman of Wynn Road had good reason to celebrate last week. Their son, Jerold, had returned home after his two-year duty in the armed

UP ON ...

Hastings Hill

All this time we've felt that the letters MDR had a medical-type meaning, such as Minimum Daily Requirement of Vitamin C. Now we learn that somebody has turned those letters into something sinister and uncomfortable.

A time-in-motion expert has decided that MDR also refers to bed making and like that. He says that all housewives have an MDR of housework, and it is a grievous fault to clean the refrigerator or dig weeds before you do your MDR of bed making, bathroom sprucing, etc., and grievously have we answered that the man is probably right.

We've known these things all the time, but when somebody actually writes it down for all to read, our security drops away.

So, what a pleasant feeling of insecurity. No wonder beatniks are beatniks.

Drop around to our coffee house any morning for your second cup, but don't come between 4 and 5 p.m. because that's when we are busy on our MDR.

Anyway, some people are slow starters.

Hastings Ranch Democratic Club will have one of its fun pot luck parties June 6 at the home of Al and Betty Ingersoll, 1135 Valley View. Pat Clarke and her social committee are taking reservations. Robert Vogel, president of the Friends of Service, just returned from a Far East trip, will make his observations of the territory and illustrate with slides he made.

The Democrats, incidentally have announced their support of Hastings Ranch's school board candidate, Jim Stivers, and his running mate, Bob Freeman.

It won't be long now before Edna and Bob Meason will be moving into their recently purchased home in Sierra Madre. The Ranch's own Jane Cowen found the property and sold it to the Measons.

I know these "little chores" around the house prove hateful to the sports enthusiasts, but Bob Reddy has the problem licked. Last Sunday found him on the roof of his house, completing a paint job, with his portable radio giving a blow by blow rundown on the Dodger game.

Christine Templar is recuperating at Sierra Madre Hospital following major surgery yesterday. Don't think she'll be welcoming forces. As yet he has made no definite plans for the future.

MR. FRANK CLARK, Attention: How far can a Myra bird with clipped wings fly when the call of spring echoes in his heart?

The children's creative writing will be displayed in the foyer and auditorium arcades, as well as sample copies of the school's book of poetry and prose, "Keepsakes," which will be printed early in the fall.

PACED BY INCREASES in employment, industrial activity and real estate sales, business activity in the southern half of California reached a new all-time high in April, according to Security First National Bank's Monthly Summary of Business Conditions. The bank's index of business activity advanced for the 13th consecutive month, showing a gain of 2 per cent over March, and a rise of nearly 16 per cent since the recession level of a year ago. E. W. Wiegel, vice president of the bank, said the index also reached a new high on a per capita basis, surpassing the previous per capita peak established in September, 1955. Total employment in the southern half of the state increased more than 25,000 from mid-March to mid-April, considerably more than the usual amount, Mr. Wiegel said. Unemployment declined more than 13 per cent during the same period.

Discussion
Series To Begin June 7

Ways to make the most out of marriage—and avoid common pitfalls—will be taught in a lecture-discussion course sponsored by Pasadena Planned Parenthood Committee beginning June 7.

Dr. Jerry P. Nims, who holds a doctor's degree in clinical psychology from University of Southern California, will conduct the four-session series.

The course is planned especially for newlyweds and young couples planning to be married and is a follow-up to the highly successful course conducted in the fall. It will be held at Pasadena YMCA Board Room, 235 E. Holly St., Sunday evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. June 7, 14, 21 and 28.

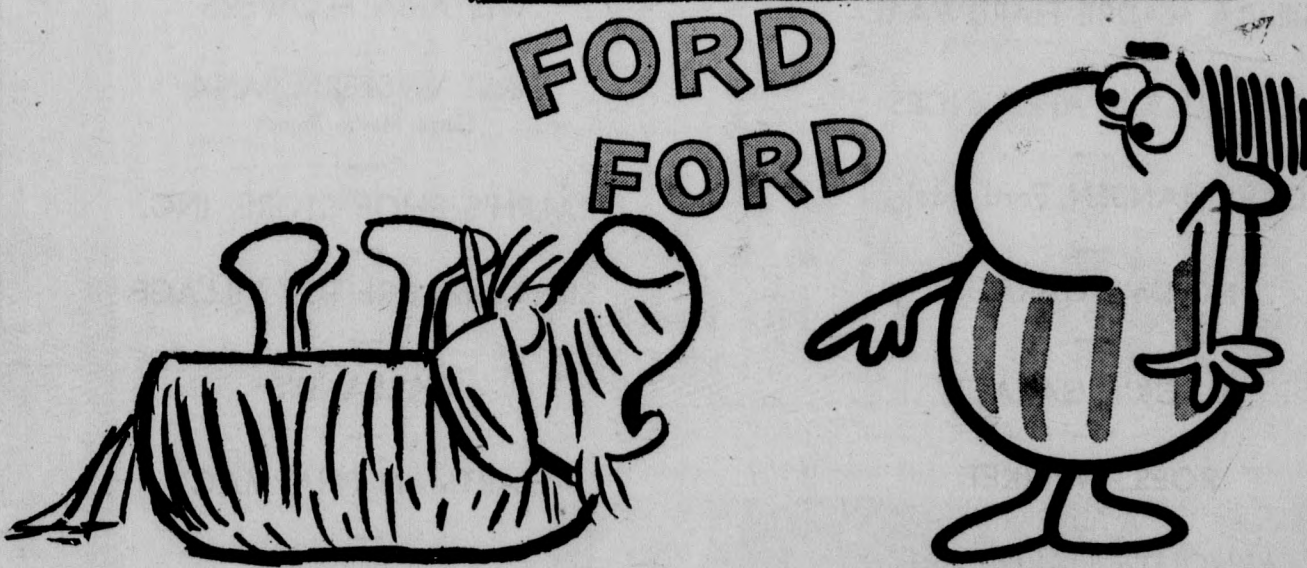

Other groups cooperating in sponsorship of the series are: YMCA, YWCA, Altadena Family Service and Family Service of Pasadena.

The four discussion meetings will cover the following topics: "Marriage—A Challenge and an Adventure," "Is There Ever Enough Money?" "Establishing Sexual Adjustments" and "Ideals and Values in Marriage."

While the course is planned primarily for couples, individuals may be accepted. Reservations are limited to keep within informal discussion limits and will be accepted on a first-come basis. The fee is $3 per person for the series.

Reservations may be made by calling Planned Parenthood Clinic at SYcamore 6-4156.

Take your problems to Church this week —

Millions Leave Them There!

No Time for Reflection!

It is often said that we are a nation of hurrying people, that we rush to work, to this, that and the other activity, that often the hearts of many fail as a result. Naturally there are times when emergency arises and haste is necessary but the ever constant daily rush from one thing to another is the pace that tells. It is often quite true that some of the things that are rated as "must" and over which many worry and fret could be cut in half or eliminated altogether.

Many are so busy that they have no time for quiet, leisurely activities which are as important to the well-being as is the daily task. There are books, music, art and time taken out for reflection.

As a possible assist to a healthier and happier life it will often prove beneficial to stop into a church at a time other than when services are in progress. There to sit, rest and reflect. There you may go alone to think and possibly hear the still, small voice through which the Creator speaks to us.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

THEY TAKE THE CAKE . . . In Moscow, these Russian women arrive at church carrying Kulich and Pashka, traditional cakes for Russian Easter.

Garden Notes . . .

'Mum' Is the Word in May California Gardens

Mums is the word—or should be—with California gardeners these days. Which is just a way of saying that it's time to talk about mums and the fall season that accompanies them.

Perhaps it's unfair to link Chrysanthemums strictly to fall, so popular have they become, members of the California Association of Nurserymen offer them in bloom the year round. But these are hothouse mums and, except for a few early varieties, they are still fall bloomers under garden conditions.

And who would have it otherwise? The rich bronze and yellow tones which the Chrysanthemum offers are made to order for the autumn season. They make up for the general lack of auumn color in mild-climate California. Additionally, they offer other colors from pure white through pinks to shades of lavender.

AS NOTED, the gardener who fails to plant mums now can always make up for his oversight by buying blooming plants in pots. But he will get more bloom for his money by setting out rooted plants available at all C.A.N. nurseries.

Often these rooted cuttings will have been pinched back by the nurseryman. If not, pinch out the top yourself. This encourages bushiness and more blooms per plant. With spider and exhibition mums, however, you are more interested in size, so don't pinch them back until late June or July and then only once. The others—anemones, pompoms, daisy and button types—can be pinched again in early July. The site you select for Chrysanthemums should be warm and sunny, and the soil should be well dug and enriched with steer manure before planting. Supplementary feeding with liquid fish or commercial fertilizer well watered in, should be a monthly practice right up to the time buds begin to show color.

MUMS SHOULD be kept succulent with new growth, so never let plants stop for lack of water.

Drainage is important, however, and must be insured at the outset. Should foliage start to yellow, the problem is probably water—too much or too little. Either way, you need only go to the other extreme to find the remedy.

Sierra-Hastings Camp Fire Log

June 5 is the date of the Grand Council Fire of the Sierra-Hastings District of the Camp Fire Girls Association, which will be held at dusk in the Sierra Madre Park, as in former years. The impressive torch-lighted ceremonies will be open to the public.

Friendly Blue Birds, fourth graders from Sierra Madre School, held a potluck dinner for their families Friday at Camp Chiquita, and then spent the night in the new camp shelters.

The girls, who will "fly up" to become Camp Fire Girls next week at the Council fire, are Jean Abby, Judy Barbour, Georgine Cason, Betsy Harris, Kay Lindsay, May Uyematsu, Nancy McCall, Shelly Rempel, Sandra Smity, Cindy Warden, Kristen Bell and Annette, Paulette and Suzette Yeats. Their leaders are Mrs. Robert Bell and Mrs. Francis Uyematsu.

HEART GRANT

Sixteen scientists in Los Angeles County will receive $117,502 in grants from the American Heart Association to conduct research on diseases of the heart and blood vessels during the 12 months beginning July 1. Dr. Walter S. Thompson Jr., president of the Los Angeles County Heart Association, announced yesterday.

Rusty Nail Not Direct Cause of Lockjaw

(Presented as a public service of the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

The old idea that a puncture wound from a rusty nail is the cause of tetanus, or lockjaw, is a misconception. Tetanus may develop from almost any scratch or wound, if proper precautions are not taken.

The germ causing tetanus, identified more than 60 years ago, produces one of the most powerful poisons known. It is almost always present in soil contaminated by the body wastes of cattle, horses and other animals. The germ is thus a menace to children, farmers, gardeners, or others whose activities bring them into contact with such soil. However, many tetanus cases develop from injuries incurred elsewhere.

THE CLOSTRIDIUM tetani, which causes tetanus, is what is called an anaerobic germ. That means that it thrives in the absence of air. Thus, when it is introduced into tissue so wounded as to close it off from the air, and also is hard to clean, conditions are perfect for its development. A puncture wound from a nail, or the wadding of firecracker, is of that type. That explains the "rusty nail" idea from folklore.

The germ does not cause illness by a direct attack on tissue. Instead, it produces a toxin, or poison, which has a peculiar liking for nerve tissue. Symptoms are all due to its irritating effect on nerves. Thus there is at first some pain and twitching of the muscles due to the nervous stimulation. Then some irritability, restlessness and chills. Then muscles begin to develop violent involuntary convulsions.

If the nerves controlling muscles of the jaw are affected, their contraction clamps the jaws tightly closed. Hence the term lockjaw. As the toxin extends its effects, major trunk muscles are involved and the back muscles in convulsion may pull the spine into a curve so that only head and feet touch the bed. The pain is excruciating.

Meanwhile, however, the mind remains clear. Death is due, not to the poison directly, but to exhaustion, heart failure, or suffocation caused by spasm of the throat muscles. In untreated cases, it comes within about four days, but, if the patient can be carried through the 10th day, there is about a 50 per cent chance of recovery.

WITH THE DISCOVERY of tetanus toxoid in 1924, tetanus became a preventable disease. Children regularly under the care of a physician are given immunization doses, along with their preventive inoculations against other diseases such as diphtheria and whooping cough. Every child should have this protection, because the germ may contaminate any wound.

Tetanus may occur any time, but particularly in the summer months, when so many persons are outdoors.

Everyone who plans to be working in the soil or around animals should consult the family physician for preventive "shots" of tetanus antitoxin.

If the skin is punctured, see your physician at once. In addition to administering the toxoid, he will open the wound, remove any contamination, and apply antiseptics.

Tetanus is easier to prevent than cure. Everyone should be immunized. Take no chances.

Do Boosters Burn Out Picture Tubes?

A booster is what we call a filament step up transformer. This means that the filament or part that lights up at the base of the picture tube normally operates at a voltage of 6.3 volts and by use of the booster it increases this voltage to approximately 8 volts thereby making it burn brighter and in turn the picture on the screen will be brighter. This booster is left on the picture tube to maintain this increase in brightness. By this method you are able to get much longer life out of the picture tube and prolonging the job of replacing the tube.

Eventually the picture tube has to be replaced but the booster makes it possible to revive your weak tube and give you a satisfactory picture that you can watch in the day time without pulling down the shades or waiting a long time for the picture to appear on the screen. Does a booster burn out a picture tube? No more than charging a car battery burns out the battery. It just prolongs the life.

The service man that sells you a booster is interested in your welfare and keeping you as a customer by giving you the most out of your present tube for a much much smaller cost. Boosters like other saleable merchandise come in various price ranges. If you plan on keeping the set a long time it is wise to put the best one on you can buy for your picture tube is too costly to gamble on. If you plan on getting rid of the set soon then by all means put a cheap one on. If you do not wish to gamble on your picture tube or your television set call this associated service organization.

Why Isn't Jig Maker a Rich Man?

By Al Miyadi
THE JIG MAKER—Barney Killian is the manufacturer of the Streamline Dodger, a finely finished, reliable if unspectacular fish getter.

Barney is celebrating his 20th year in the fishing tackle business, wholesale and retail. He is neither rich nor poor, an enviable status preserved in part by the Dodger jigs.

The Dodger, by the jig standard of longevity, is a success. Why, then, to paraphrase my old man, why ain't he rich?

THE ANSWER, as supplied by Killian, is a simple one: There's no money in it—at least not enough to get rich on.

So why again, "Well, says Barney, "like anything else, it's the cut." And the cut goes like this: (1) 50 per cent to the jobber, (2) and an additional 32 per cent recut between discounts, representative's fee, rebates, and 10 per cent of that amount which reverts to Uncle Sam under the Federal Excise Tax.

"So," asks Barney, "what's there left?"

AS A RESULT, adds the man, without exception, every jig manufacturer in Southern California depends either on another sideline or job for his main source of income.

"Funny," muses Killian, "the last three years have been the best jig years on record—and everyone's going broke."

"And," he adds, "if it weren't for my tackle business, I'd be broke, too."

Then why does he continue manufacturing the Dodgers?

"Why," says Barney, "for the money, of course."

BEACHCOMBINGS—And speaking of jigs, the white ones still the hottest for barracuda . . . which reminds us, we're giving away each week a batch of one of the hottest on the market, the Jerry Jig, to the best gripes submitted to: 3506 Muscatel Circle, Rosemead, Calif. . . also free fishing passes.

the local parracuda parade, with Paradise Cove close behind. . . Skiff angler R. O'Neill, Venice, nailed two yellows, and George Matsuda and Ben Kido, L.A., fish took three yellows and 20 barracuda, all taken near the Cove barge. . . and Mrs. W. P. Spencer, Santa Monica, hauled in a 37-pound halibut. . . some yellows reported off El Segundo early this week.

Horseshoe going strong again, half day runners out of Pierpoint, Pacific taking yellows plus scooters only minutes from the breakwater. . . Huntington Beach Flats hot and cold. . . Star Angler new free lance runner out of 22nd St., 30 bunks, does 12 knots, powered by twin 200 hp GM diesels. . . Ensenada coming back strong again, lots of yellowtail, barracuda, few fishermen. . . San Diego the same, except lots of fishermen. . . Annual press orgy slated by your Gas Co. next month, new Dinah Lee out of 22nd St.
